

2023 Agricultural Land and Deer in Missouri Survey – Results Summary

Missouri Department of Conservation

This document provides a summary of results obtained from a survey of agricultural producers in Missouri conducted in January 2023. The survey was conducted jointly by the Missouri Department of Conservation and the United States Department of Agriculture. The survey sampled 14,000 non-agribusiness farm operations in Missouri that operate on at least five acres of land. Objectives of the survey were to obtain input from agricultural producers about deer populations and deer population management. This input, along with input from hunters and other stakeholders is important in assessing status of the deer population and informing harvest management decisions. Response to the survey was voluntary.
